$400 MADE AT FESTIVAL FOR FIREMEN

Obstacle Race Is Feature of Afternoon's Program; Water Fight Tie

L. V. WINS BALL GAME

The Firemen's Festival held in Antioch last Thursday was a great success and added greatly to help pay for the newly purchased fire truck, which is the finest engine made. The large crowd which started gathering shortly after noon remained all during the program.

The water fight which opened the Festival shortly after one o'clock, was composed of all local firemen, J. Dunn, P. Besch and Frank Spangard composed one team and were opposed by Fred Sorenson, Fred Brown and J. Moran. After twenty minutes of struggle to see which side forced the other back with the aid of hose shooting a 45-lb. stream the fight was called to a halt with the honors even.

Following the water fight the automobile slow race was held with seven contestants participated. Nason Sibley was the only entry to finish. The rules of the race provided that the driver must run his car in high speed only, and that as soon as a shift in gears was made the entry was disqualified, or if a stop was made the driver was not allowed to start the car again. The race started at the Opera House block and the course was to Depot street and back to the starting point. The car gelang, the slowest winning. Only two cars reached Depot street, that being Sibley and Mrs. O. W. Kettihut. Mrs. Kettihut was several hundred feet in the rear, but on the return "killed" the engine and left Sibley alone to finish. Eight minutes and 30 seconds were required to go the short distance.

The obstacle race proved the feature of the afternoon. Large ice cream tubs were placed in the street at various points of disadvantage to the driver of an automobile, and the one that could go between these tubs without touching any of them in the quickest time was the winner. Emil Steizkel won this event, the time being one minute and 30 seconds. More than twenty persons in various kinds of machines participated in this event.

The parade which followed the obstacle race was greatly applauded. The procession which followed the fire truck and the firemen formed at the grade school and proceeded to the Antioch baseball park where the Lake Villa business men defeated a team composed of Antioch players by a 15 to 6 score. Art Rosenfeldt started pitching for Antioch, but the support given him by the infield was very poor and when the second inning was over Lake Villa had scored five runs. Bernie Fields replaced Rosenfeldt but fared no better, the Villa business men toying with Antioch. Hamlin pitched good ball for the winners and was given excellent backing. Those participating in the game were: Lake Villa, Hussey, 1b; McClinty, c; Ellinger, 2b; Hamlin, p; Rindich, ss; Zeuner, 3b; Murrell, lf; Triax, rf; Sorenson, cf; Antioch, Lasce, 3b; B. Fields, ss; Smart, 1b; Selter, lf; Belter, cf; Barthol, c; Wilton, 2b; Story, rf; Rosenfeldt, p; Kling, sub.

The dance held in the evening filled the rooms of the Antioch Sales & Service Station to capacity. The music for the afternoon was furnished by Rev. Pollock's boy scout band and was greatly appreciated. More than $400 was cleared on the entire program, all of which will go to the firemen to pay for the new truck.

STEALS HORSE FROM LEHMANN STABLES

A brown and white spotted riding horse was stolen from Lehmann's Chesney Farm stables on Sunday evening or early Monday morning. The horse was taken by Joe Stropko, 19 years old, who had been employed at the farm. When Stropko left with the horse he had an army uniform and the horse carried a western style saddle. No word has been heard of either Joe or the horse.

Ford Races Feature at County Fair

An entirely new feature of the Lake County Fair for 1923 will be a race for Ford cars. This event will be held on Sunday, Sept. 2, and much interest is being manifested. Five hundred dollars in prize will be offered, and this is expected to attract the fleetest of Mr. Ford's progeny.

While all details of the race have not been worked out, the plans provide for a race in which Ford speed kings will take part. These cars have been geared up so that they run like scared jack rabbits. Other races will be for the common or garden variety of fivvers, piloted by experience drivers. Then there will be another race for Fords driven by Lake county owners.

A large number of entries are expected in the professional class, as there will be Ford races at Woodstock on Saturday, September 1, coming to Libertyville on Sunday, and from here they will go to Palatine on Monday, Sept. 3. This assures a full card for Libertyville.

A great deal of interest is being centered in the monster five-passenger airplane, which will be here and take patrons of the fair for a bird's-eye view of the fair grounds and surrounding country. This big ship of the air is by far the largest ever brought to Lake county for the purpose of carrying passengers. The charge will be much lower than in former years.

Sunday afternoon a professional aviator will make a thrilling parachute jump from the wing of the giant plane while it is in the air going at the rate of one hundred miles an hour. The same afternoon an aerial wing walking performance will be staged.

The baseball schedule has been adopted. Antioch and Lake Villa teams play Saturday afternoon. These two are conceded among the headliners of the county.

Sunday afternoon the Fansteel and Abbott Laboratories teams will meet on the fair grounds diamond. They are the leaders in the Industrial League of Waukegan-North Chicago.

The same afternoon Everett and Area will decide which has the better baseball team. The Everett bunch has been playing consistent ball all season, while Area claims to have the best aggregation of ball tossers in the smaller towns. A battle-royal is anticipated, and a large crowd of spectators will accompany each team and work hard for their favorites.

The stock judges this year will be C. S. Rhode, head of the Dairy Extension Dept. of the University of Illinois, who will have charge of judging dairy cattle. Mr. Rhode is recognized as an expert in this work.

For the beef cattle E. T. Robbins, famous live stock specialist of the University of Illinois, will be in charge of the judging. Mr. Robbins will also judge the horses and sheep. Mr. Terpening of Galesburg, will decide the winners in the hog entries. L. L. Heller, farm adviser of Cook county, will award the premiums for all agricultural products, fruits and vegetables.

Sup't. of Schools T. A. Simpson will have charge of the educational exhibit. This department in past years has been of much interest, and this year's exhibit will be better than ever before.

DIES WHILE WORKING ON CEMENT ROAD

Joseph Burnett, employed by E. H. Merrick, road building contractor, dropped dead Monday evening at Lake Villa.

Burnett had been working for Merrick for about six weeks on the Lake Villa road, and his services were obtained through a Chicago employment agency. Efforts are being made to locate relatives of the dead man. He was about 35 years old, and little is known about him due to the fact that he came to this county so recently. Burnett complained of being ill Monday afternoon and did not work. About 6 o'clock he collapsed and was dead a few minutes later.

The body was taken to Waukegan.

MARDI GRAS DANCE AT SYLVAN BEACH SATURDAY

There will be a Mardi Gras dance at the Sylvan Beach pavilion at the north end of Channel Lake on Saturday.

Mrs. N. S. Burnett and daughter Reba left for Freeport, Monday to visit her daughter.

Walter China, who has been in Kenosha for the past year, was here Tuesday and informs us that he has accepted a position at Chicago.

The Sunday school children of the M. E. church enjoyed their annual picnic in the Sylvan woods Wednesday and a large crowd attended.

Wednesday last at the home of M. M. Burke south of town, a merry party of young folks assembled to celebrate the eleventh anniversary of the birth of Master Llewellyn Burke. After indulging in various games and sports the party repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous repast was served to which all did ample justice. The party then dispersed to their several homes having spent a most enjoyable afternoon.

Master Lewey was the recipient of many tokens of remembrance from his guests and hearty good wishes from all.

FIRE DESTROYS NORTH PRAIRIE M. E. CHURCH

The electrical storm of early Monday morning destroyed the North Prairie church, four miles west of Zion.

Lightning struck the steeple about 5 o'clock and despite the efforts of farmers, a bucket brigade and the Zion fire department, the building burned to the ground. However, before its destruction, willing hands working in the storm managed to save the piano, organ, pictures, pulpit and the prayer books.

The North Prairie church was one of the largest country churches in the county. It consisted of a basement, auditorium and upstairs rooms which were used for Sunday school work.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

George Lewis of Waukegan spent over Thursday in Antioch with relatives.

Chase Webb is spending this week at Crystal Falls, Mich., visiting relatives.

Miss Dora Teckert, who has been working in Kenosha for some time, came to her home here quite sick last week. Her condition became worse and Monday morning she was removed to St. Catherine's hospital in Kenosha. Her parents and Dr. Debo accompanied her. Mr. and Mrs. Teckert are remaining in Kenosha for several days.

Carter Halvorsen of Chicago visited several days this week at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Peter Peterson.

Mrs. Andrew Harrison and Miss Baulhaw were in Waukegan Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Harrison and daughter were Kenosha visitors on Sunday.

Mr. David Lightner has returned after a two weeks' visit at Sycamore.

Mrs. C. B. Harrison is spending this week in Waukegan at the home of her son, Charles Harrison, and wife.

Mrs. Mary Hegeman was a Burlington shopper Wednesday.

Mrs. Florence Balrtow, who has spent some time at the home of Mrs. C. B. Harrison, left recently for St. Paul, Minn., where she expects to make her future home.

A Penny Each

Here you are School Kids! We have gathered together all the paper, that has been of odd sizes and have made them into scratch pads of various sizes for the kids in school to use. These will be sold to CHILDREN ONLY at a price that cost to put them into tabs, or in other words a penny each, and in order to make them "go around" the limit is five to a child. Get 'em at the News office starting next Tuesday.

Pass Bad Checks at Fox Lake

The ever-popular "hum check" game was played for high stakes in Fox Lake over the past week end. The losers are Jim Manning and "Duke" Bein.

Bein and Manning are out $685 as result of M. J. Flynn's activities at their resorts. Manning, so reports say, cashed a check for $385 and Bein cashed another for $300. Both were turned back by Chicago banks marked "not sufficient funds."

Several weeks ago Flynn, with his wife appeared at Manning's place, and quickly let it be known that he was a lobbyist for the Standard Oil company, and an exponent of anything that Mrs. McCormick desired to "put across." He also casually mentioned that he was a personal friend of Col. A. V. Smith, prosecutor.

Then followed party after party in which Flynn flourished plenty of mazzama and everything went well until one day a Chicago copper appeared and laid a detaining hand on Flynn's big sedan. The copper alleged that Flynn had bunked a Chicagoan in a sale of Standard Oil stock, and that it would be necessary to raise $500 to square things and save a trip to the big house.

Being a little short at that minute, Flynn turned to Manning. Sure, Manning would cash his check but Manning only had $385 on hand. However, Manning was acquainted with Duke so they tripped over to the Rexana. On the way Flynn decided he would need a little spending money. We'd better cash a check for $300 on Duke, he suggested. And so Duke was made the goat for 300 smackers.

COMPLAIN OF RAID AT LEO COURT INN

Complaint was made to local authorities that on Sunday evening four men raided the Leo Court Inn, a camp for girls at Channel Lake.

Occupants of the house noticed the men looking in the windows, but paid no attention to them. Shortly after the men came to the door and said they wanted to search the house. The chaperone at the house asked to see their star of authority, but the raiders said that was not necessary as they had a warrant. They refused to show the warrant, however, and proceeded to ransack the house. After a thorough search, in which nothing was taken, they left the premises.

The leader of the raiders was about 40 years old, short and heavy set. Local authorities advised them to carry their complaint to State's Attorney Smith for investigation.

Catch Thief After Chase Through Crowd

During the Firemen's Festival activities Thursday afternoon five young boys entered the hardware store of S. M. Walence on Main street. They inquired the prices of different articles about the store. Two of the boys drew Mr. Walence's attention to one end of the store and when they crowded him and tried to obscure his view of the other end of the store he became suspicious and glanced over the shoulders of one of the boys just in time to see another member of the party putting a cap up under his sweater. Mr. Walence went around the cases and seized the young man and took the hat away from him.

Mr. Walence has noticed the loss of several items from his store and thinking that these boys might be part of an organization indulging in thievery he stepped to the door to call the constable. The young man caught in the act, realizing Walence's attention made a dash past Walence out into the crowded street.

There was considerable excitement when Walence called out for someone to "stop that man" and Charley Davis a member of the State Constabulary, who was in King's Drug store was one of the first to take pursuit. Seeing that the young man was easily due to out-distance him Davis demanded him to stop. Failing to do this Davis drew his revolver and fired into the air. This caused a sudden change of thought on the part of the fugitive and he stopped immediately.

Due to the youth of the young man none of them apparently over 18 years of age, Walence decided to enter a charge of disorderly conduct and under this charge Justice Sam Turbell fined the culprit $15 and cost, with addition instruction to make themselves scarce around Antioch.

All of the boys were from Chicago some of them students at Harrison Tech. They were out here on a vacation at one of the cottages at Channel Lake.

Somerville to Sue Those Who Testified Against Him, Says W. Paper

Several weeks ago Thomas Somerville informed a representative of The Antioch News that he intended to bring suit against all persons who testified against his character during the Small bribery trial at Waukegan. The News could not get any information today from Somerville, but the following story was taken from a Waukegan paper of Monday:

"Thomas Somerville, Jr., Antioch baker, state witness in the trial of Eddie Kaufman, Eddie Courtney, and J. Bernie Fields, charged with 'tampering' with the Small jury, was in Chicago today discussing with attorneys a contemplated suit for alleged slander against 40 persons as result of statements made during the trial.

Prominently mentioned in the discussion was Attorney W. W. O'Brien, defense attorney; the Waukegan Daily Sun, and 38 Antioch persons, many of them prominent in civic and business life there. Attorneys Ben Short and Charles Erbstein of Chicago, and Arthur C. Mader and Harry Mather of Aurora are counsel for Somerville. He plans, he said, to institute suit against 40 men in the October term of the Circuit court with damages of $12,000 asked in each case.

L. VILLA WINS FROM ANTIOCH AT WAUKEGAN

Deciding Game for County Title to Be played Sunday

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

Lake Villa opened up the title series with Antioch at Waukegan on Sunday before a large crowd by a 6 to 3 score.

Both sides delivered nine hits, but Lake Villa's came when they counted runs.

Kingsley and Sorenson knocked balls over the right field wall, but they went for doubles according to ground rules arranged before the battle. "Kakle" Kerns delivered the longest hit of the game when he tripled along the left field line.

Lake Villa scored first in the opening inning. Ed Ahlstrom stroled, stole second, and came in on a clean bingle by Waters. The first blood was a bad omen for Antioch.

Antioch came right back in the third inning when Kerns tripled and came in on a single by Rogers. They took the lead in the fourth when Ehner doubled and Kingsley singled. Both were advanced by Deck and came in when Davidson whipped out a hit. Up to this time Antioch had been hitting Dixie freely.

Lake Villa tied the score in the fifth inning when three hits, singles by Hollstein and Santche and Sorenson's double over the fence accounted for two runs. Two more runs came in the eighth when Tornquist singled in a pinch and drove in a pair ahead of him. Bixby brought in the final run when he walked and was shoved along by Waters and Walzack, who singled.

Davidson was yanked in the eighth inning when two hits were chalked up against him. Up to this time he had been spotted for several bingles, but had not been hurled bad enough to warrant being pulled out. Bill Stanzaek took his place at the slab.

Score by Innings:
Antioch 0 0 1 2 0 0 0 0-3
Lake Villa 1 0 0 0 2 2 1 x-6
The game deciding the championship. The deciding game of the series will be played at "W" park, Waukegan, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

On Monday (Labor Day) the Hartford Glants of Chicago, one of the best colored teams in Chicago, will be the attraction at the Antioch Park. The game will be called at 2:15 sharp.

Methodist Episcopal Church News

A few more new faces appear in Church and Sunday school. "Let him that heareth say Come." Let all the Christian people remember to give the personal invitation to all they meet to come to the house of God, and explain to them the unmeasured good they can get by coming. The Word of God has in it power which will work in the hearts of the hearers. It always does. Help get more hearers for the word, and you will be doing a really great service.

The thank-offering service of the W. F. M. S. last Sunday morning was full of information and inspiration and the offering was very good. This society alone is now raising and using in their Christ-like ministrations more than two millions of dollars a year, having about seven hundred American workers and some six thousand native workers in the fields.

The evening service last Sunday was given to emphasis on the Witness of the Spirit, bringing out with clearness several facts of vital import:

First, that God sends the Holy Spirit; second, that where He sends Him is into hearts; third, only to the hearts of those who seek Him with their entire energy to intense earnestness; fourth, that His work when He comes to the heart is to transform the heart and life completely, so that we are "new creatures—Old things passed away, all things become new." Fifth, that His further work is, at the same time when He recreates us, to give us a token, an assurance, a consciousness, a witness, so that we know the great transformation has taken place, that we have found Our Father. It was shown from the New Testament that this is the real and genuine Christian religion. There is no other genuine or real.

The Extent of a Service

EACH MONTH sees the Public Service Company become a part of the community life of a still greater group of customers.

Today the Company serves a territory of 6000 square miles—a greater area than that of Connecticut and Rhode Island combined. It numbers 220,160 customers living in 180 cities, towns and smaller communities. The fifteen counties comprised within its area of service have a population almost equal to the states of Vermont, Arizona, Delaware, Wyoming and Nevada combined.

To serve this great family of users of electricity and gas, the Company has more than $70,000,000 invested in its properties, comprising electric generating stations, gas plants, substations, thousands of miles of transmission and distribution lines, gas, heat and water mains and other necessary property.

It occupies 112 buildings variously located throughout the territory. The lines of the company would stretch across the continent from New York to San Francisco.

In 1922 the year's supply of coal amounting to 516,922 tons, required the movement of 9,399 freight cars of 55 tons capacity—the equivalent of a train 65 miles long.

2,850 employes form an army ready to serve the public. The payroll is in excess of $5,000,000 annually, all of which contributes to the prosperity of the communities served.

All of this capital and human effort are concentrated upon one purpose, and that is to give continuously good service at the lowest practicable cost.

CHAPTER XV

The Crags.

Glad indeed was Madeline to be lifted off her horse beside a roaring fire—to see steaming pots upon red-hot coals. Except about her shoulders, which had been protected by the slicker, she was wringing wet. The Mexican women came quickly to help her change in a tent nearby; but Madeline preferred for the moment to warm her numb feet and hands and to watch the spectacle of her arriving friends.

"Warm clothes—hot drinks and grub—warm blankets," rang out Stewart's sharp order.

Then, with Florence helping the Mexican women, it was not long until Madeline and the feminine side of the party were comfortable, except for the weariness and aches that only rest and sleep could alleviate.

Neither fatigue nor pains, however, nor the strangeness of being packed sardinelike under canvas, nor the howls of coyotes, kept Madeline's guests from stretching out with long, grateful sighs, and one by one dropping into deep slumber. Madeline whispered a little to Florence, and laughed with her once or twice, and then the light flickering on the canvas faded and her eyelids closed. Darkness and roar of camp life, low voices of men, thump of horses' hoofs, coyote serenade, the sense of warmth and sweet rest—all drifted away.

When she awakened shadows of swaying branches moved on the sunlit canvas above her. Slow, regular breathing attested to the deep slumbers of her tent comrades. She observed presently that Florence was missing from the number. Madeline rose and peeped out between the flaps.

An exquisitely beautiful scene surprised and enthralled her gaze. Eager to get out where she could enjoy an unrestricted view, she searched for her pack, found it in a corner, and then hurriedly and quietly dressed.

Her favorite stag-hounds, Russ and Tartar, were asleep before the door, where they had been chained. She awakened them and loosened them, thinking the while that it must have been Stewart who had chained them near her. Close at hand also was a cowboy's bed rolled up in a tarpaulin.

The cool air, fragrant with pine and spruce and some subtle nameless tang, sweet and tonic, made Madeline stand erect and breathe slowly and deeply. It was like drinking of a magic draught. She felt it in her blood, that it quickened its flow. Turning to look in the other direction, beyond the tent, she saw the remnants of last night's temporary camp, and farther on a grove of beautiful pines from which came the sharp ring of the ax. Wilder gaze took in a wonderful park, not only surrounded by lofty crags, but full of crags of lesser height, many lifting their heads from dark green groves of trees. The morning sun, not yet above the eastern elevations, sent its rosy and golden shafts in between the towering rocks to tip the pines.

Madeline, with the hounds beside her, walked through the nearest grove. The ground was soft and springy and brown with pine-needles.

Florence espied her under the trees and came running. She was like a young girl, with life and color and joy. She wore a flannel blouse, corduroy skirt, and moccasins. And her hair was fastened under a band like an Indian's.

"Castleton's gone with a gun, for hours, it seems," said Florence. "Gene just went to hunt him up. The other gentlemen are still asleep. I imagine they sure will sleep up here in this alcove."

Then, business-like, Florence fell to questioning Madeline about details of camp arrangement which Stewart, and Florence herself, could hardly see to without suggestion.

As the day advanced the charm of the place grew upon Madeline. Even at noon, with the sun beating down, there was comfortable warmth rather than heat. It was the kind of warmth that Madeline liked to feel in the spring.

Presently a chorus of merry calls attracted her attention, and she turned to see Helen limping along with Dorothy, and Mrs. Beck and Edith supporting each other. They were all rested, but lame, and delighted with the place, and as hungry as bears awakened from a winter's sleep.

Then they had dinner, sitting on the ground after the manner of Indians; and it was a dinner that lacked merit only because everybody was too busily appeasing appetite.

For a few days the prevailing features of camp life for Madeline's guests were sleep and rest. This men were more visibly affected by the mountain air than the women.

This languorous spell disappeared presently, and then the days were full of life and action. Necessarily, of course, Madeline and her guests were now thrown much in company with the cowboys. And the party grew to be like one big family.

Madeline found the situation one of keen and double interest for her. If before she had cared to study her cowboys, particularly Stewart, now, with the contrasts afforded by her guests, she felt by turns she was amused and mystified and perplexed and saddened, and then again subtly pleased.

From the thought of Stewart, and the watchfulness growing out of it, she discovered more about him. He was not happy; he often paced up and down the grove at night; he absented himself from camp sometimes during the afternoon when Nels and Nick and Monty were there; he was always watching the trails, as if he expected to see some one come riding up. His aloofness of the cowboys did not indulge in the fun and talk around the campfire. He remained preoccupied and sad, and was always looking away into distance. Madeline had a strange sense of his guardianship over her; and, remembering Don Carlos, she imagined he worried a good deal over his charge, and, indeed, over the safety of all the party.

A favorite lounging spot of Madeline's was a shaded niche under the lee of crags facing the east. Here in the shade of afternoon, she and Edith would often lounge under a low, branched tree. Seldom they talked much, for it was afternoon and dreamy with the strange spell of this mountain fastness. There was smoky haze in the valleys, a fleecy cloud resting over the peaks, a sailing eagle in the blue sky, silence that was the unbroken silence of the wild heights, and a soft wind laden with incense of pine.

One afternoon, however, Edith appeared prone to talk seriously.

"See here, Majesty Hammond, do you

"See here, Majesty Hammond, do you intend to spend the rest of your life in this wilderness?" she asked, bluntly.

Madeline was silent.

"Oh, it is glorious! Don't misunderstand me, dear," went on Edith, earnestly, as she laid her hand on Madeline's. "This trip has been a revelation to me. I did not tell you, Majesty, that I was ill when I arrived. Now I'm well. So well! Look at Helen, too. Why, she was a ghost when we got here. Now she is brown and strong and beautiful. If it were for nothing else than this wonderful gift of health I would love the West. But I have come to love it for other things—even spiritual things. Majesty, I have been studying you. I see and feel what this life has made of you. When I came I wondered at your strength, your vitality, your serenity, your happiness. And I was stunned. I wondered at the causes of your change. Now I know. You were sick of idleness, sick of uselessness, of not of society—sick of the horrible noises and smells and contacts one can no longer escape in the cities. I am sick of all that, too, and I could tell you many women of our kind who suffer in a like manner. You have done what many of us want to do, but have not the courage. You have left it. I am not blind to the splendid difference you have made in your life. I think I would have discovered, even if your brother had not told me, what good you have done to the Mexicans and gentlemen of your range. Then you have work to do. That is much the secret of your happiness, is it not? Tell me. Tell me something of what it means to you?"

"Work, of course, has much to do with any one's happiness," replied Madeline. "No one can be happy who has no work. As regards myself—for the rest I can hardly tell you. I have never tried to put it in words. Frankly, I believe, if I had not had money that I could not have found such contentment here. That is not in any sense a judgment against the West. But if I had been poor I could not have bought and maintained my ranch. Stillwell tells me there are many larger ranches than mine, but none just like it. Then I am almost paying my expenses out of my business. Think of that! My income, instead of being wasted, is mostly saved. I think—I hope I am useful. Of course my ranch and range are real, my cowboys are typical. If I were to tell you how I feel about them it would simply be a story of how Madeline Hammond sees the West. They are true to the West. It is I who am strange, and what I feel for them may be strange, too. Edith, hold to your own impressions."

"But, Majesty, my impressions have changed. At first I did not like the wind, the dust, the sun, the endless open stretches. But now I do like them. Where once I saw only terrible wastes of barren ground now I see beauty and something noble. Then, at first, your cowboys struck me as dirty, rough, loud, crude, savage—all that was primitive. But I was wrong. I have changed. The dirt was only dust, and this desert dust is clean. They are still rough, loud, crude, and savage in my eyes, but with a difference. They are natural men. They are little children. Monty Price is one of nature's noblemen. The hard thing is to discover it. All his hideous person, all his actions and speech, are masks of his real nature. Nels is a joy, a simple, sweet, kindly, quiet man whom some woman should have loved. What would love have meant to him! He told me that no woman ever loved him except his mother, and he lost her when he was ten. Every man ought to be loved—especially such a man as Nels. Somehow his gun record does not impress me. I never could believe he killed a man. Then take your foreman, Stewart. He is a cowboy, his work and life the same as the others. But he has education and most of the graces we are in the habit of saying make a gentleman. Stewart is a strange fellow, just like this strange country. He's a man, Majesty, and I admire him. So, you see, my impressions are developing with my stay out here. I like the country, I like the men. One reason I want to go home soon is because I am discontented enough at home now, without falling in love with the West, for, of course, Majesty, I would. I could not live out here. And that brings me to my point. Admitting all the beauty and charm and wholesomeness and good of this wonderful country, still it is no place for you, Madeline Hammond. You have your position, your wealth, your name, your family. You must marry. You must have children. You must not give up all that for a quixotic life in a wilderness."

"I am convinced, Edith, that I shall live here all the rest of my life."

"Oh, Majesty! I hate to preach this way. But I promised your mother I would talk to you. And the truth is I hate—I hate what I'm saying. I envy you your courage and wisdom. I know you have refused to marry Lloyd Harvey. I could see that in his face. I believe you will refuse Castleton. Whom will you marry? What chance is there for a woman of your position to marry out here? What in the world will become of you?"

"Quiet, sobe?" replied Madeline, with a smile that was almost sad.

Not so many hours after this conversation with Edith Madeline sat with Boyd Harvey upon the grassy promontory overlooking the west, and she listened once again to his suave courtship.

Suddenly she turned to him and said, "Boyd, if I married you, would you be willing to spend the rest of your life here in the West?"

"Majesty!" he exclaimed. There was amaze in the voice usually so even and well modulated—amaze in the handsome face usually so indifferent. Her question had startled him. She saw him look down the iron-gray cliffs, over the barren slopes and cedared ridges, beyond the cactus-covered foothills to the grim and ghastly desert. Just then, with its red rolls of sunlit dust-clouds, its illimitable waste of ruined and upheaved earth, it was a sinister spectacle.

"No," he replied, with a tingle of shame in his cheek.

Madeline said no more, nor did he speak. She was spared the pain of refusing him, and she laughed he would never ask her again. There was both relief and regret in the conviction.

It was impossible not to like Lloyd Harvey. He was handsome, young, rich, well born, pleasant, cultivated—he was all that made a gentleman of his class. He was considered a very desirable and eligible young man. Madeline admitted all this.

Then she thought of things that were perhaps exclusively her own strange ideas. Lloyd Harvey's white skin did not tan, even in this southwestern sun and wind. His hands were whiter than her own, and as soft. They were a proof, that he never worked. His frame was tall, graceful, elegant. It did not bear evidence of ruggedness. He had never indulged in a sport more strenuous than yachting. He hated effort and activity. He rode horseback very little, disliked any moderate motoring, spent much time in Newport and Europe, never walked when he could help it, and had no ambition unless it were to pass the days pleasantly. If he ever had any sense they would be like him, only a generation more toward the inevitable extinction of his race.

Madeline returned to camp in just the mood to make a sharp, deciding contrast. It happened—fatefully, perhaps—that the first man she saw was Stewart. Stewart was a combination of fire, strength, and action. These attributes seemed to cling about him. There was something vital and compelling in his presence. In him Madeline saw the strength of his forefathers unimpaired. The life in him was marvelously significant.

Madeline Hammond compared the man of the East with the man of the West; and that comparison was the last parting regret for her old standards.

ATTRACTION PROGRAM IS EXTRAORDINARY

FIVE BIG ACTS ON PROGRAM OF ATTRACTIONS

ALL FEATURES WILL OFFER ORIGINAL STUNTS

Humorous and Acrobatic Acts Will Entertain Audience During Intermissions

The secretary of the Walworth county fair has been complimented by the President of the Wisconsin Fair Association on the wonderful free attraction program which is scheduled for this year. A full program to be sure, and each and every one a headliner. A great deal of time and consideration has been given to the selection of these acts for the entertainment of the grand stand crowd during the intermissions between races, and the result is most gratifying to the officials as well as all who are interested.

The Glencoe Sisters in the Highland Lassie Review is one of the prettiest and most complete acts on the entire program. Seldom do acts of this kind find their way on the program of a county fair for they are of the highest class and during the winter season play to vaudeville audiences in some of the largest theatres in the country. There are six girls in the act and some mighty clever dancing, singing, and instrumental numbers will be presented. They are dressed through part of the act in the Scotch kilts, and novelty numbers will be rendered on the bagpipe and other instruments in more common use. They are recommended very highly and will offer something worthwhile.

ANNOUNCEMENTS TO BE MADE THROUGH MAGNOVOX

Shumacher of Delavan to Install Apparatus

One of the many accommodations which are enjoyed by the patrons of the Walworth county fair, is the "loud speaker" or magnovox which is used from the judges' stand for announcements and transferred to the stand by

MADAM BEDINI TRAINED HORSES TO BE FEATURE

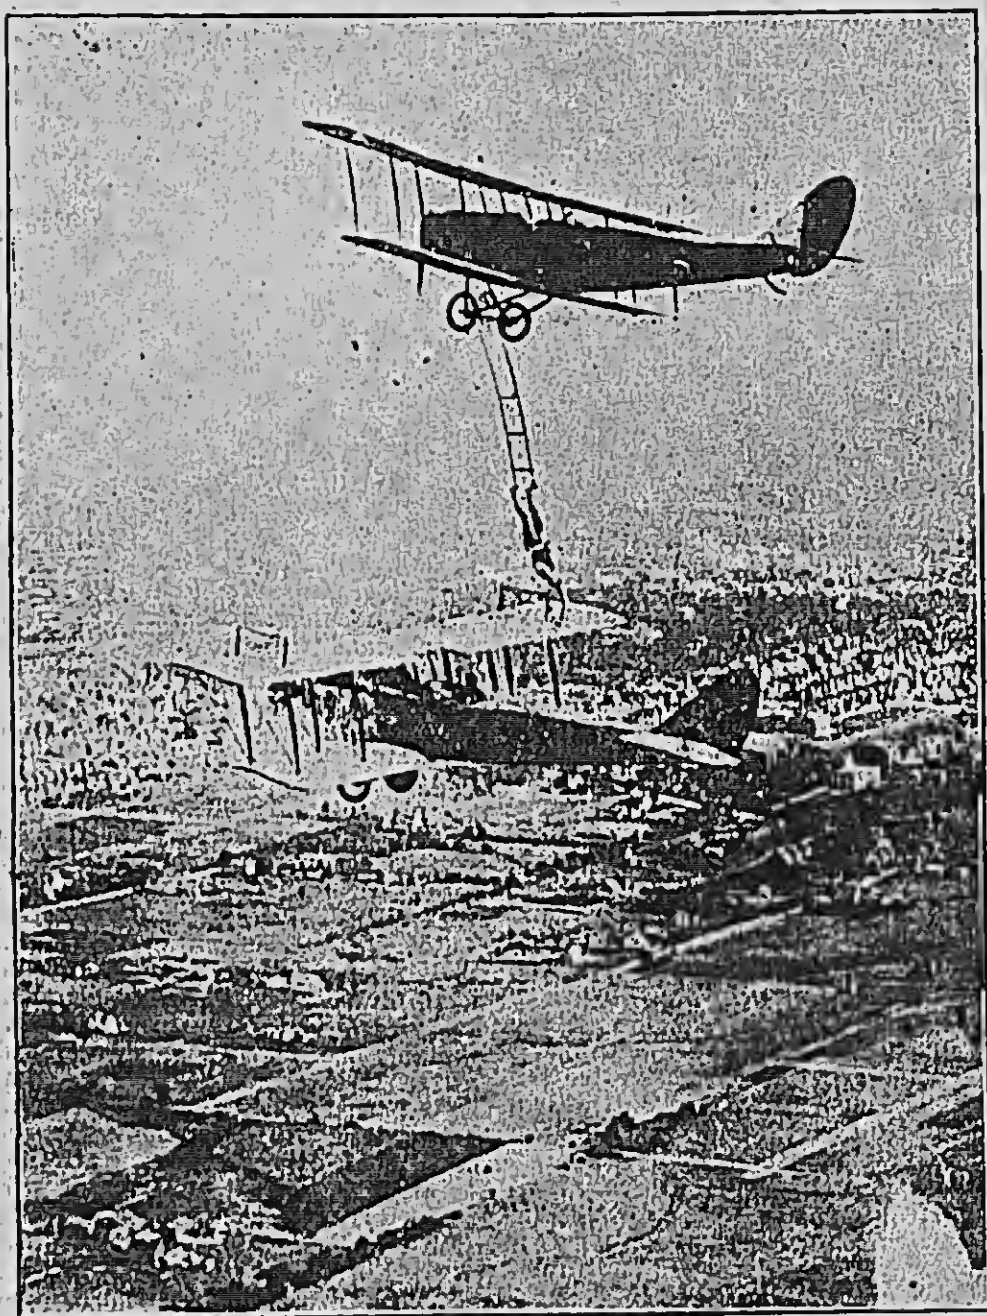

FREE ATTRACTION HEAD-LINER WILL INTEREST

Lovers of Horseflesh Will Appreciate This Trained Troupe of Fine Horses

Anyone who is a lover of animal life, especially horses, will appreciate to a high degree, the outstanding feature of the free attraction program, Madam Bedini and her force of trained horses and dogs. Her troupe of trained horses excel anything in this line that the country has known for a number of years. The horses used in the acts are not put through the stunts desired, they go through the stunts almost without the direction of the trainer. Most of the tricks and stunts are done with the trainer mounted and the "almost human" horses seem to know, in fact do know, just what comes next on the program. They seem to get joy out of the acts and the reason for this is evident, for in the training of the animals, the whip was seldom used, which is contrary to the general method of training. They do these acts because they wish to please their trainer and not because the sting of the whip urges them on.

The feature attraction of this act is "JACK MORGAN," a beautiful black gelding which is the favorite of Madam Bedini. This horse was purchased from Dr. Weese, a veterinarian from Arora, Ill. At the time the horse was purchased he was vicious and of bad temper. The first few hours of his education were trying ones for his mistress but after several months of patient training the horse was brought to the point where he could be shown with the troupe and due to the kind treatment by all concerned he has climbed to the head of the act and is now known as "JACK" the feature. You will appreciate "JACK

HOLD YOUR BREATH

This is only one of the stunts which go a long way toward making Ethel Dare and her act a success as far as thrills are concerned. In this snap shot, Miss Dare is in the act of changing planes in midair, a stunt that is considered to be one of her most dangerous. Watch for his one at the Walworth county fair on TUESDAY afternoon only.

The program would not be complete without several numbers of humor. One of these acts, and possibly the best on the program is the cycling experts who ride odd and freakish wheels. They introduce the "Krazzy Kar," a screaming travesty on the trials and tribulations of the modern motorist. The act carries a large amount of equipment and various machines of mirth will be used. This act is new and original in the line of cycling and will be sure to please.

The Great Vulcano, marvel of the world, has a balancing act supreme. He carries a partner who introduces some of the wildest antics in balancing ever seen on any stage. This act also is direct from a well known vaudeville circuit and it comes highly recommended. One of the features of this act occurs when his partner mounts a motorcycle and the Great Vulcano hoists it above his head, resting a padded bar on his forehead and holds the machine there with arms outstretched. That sounds like a fairy tale, but what would you say if the partner seated on the motorcycle should start the motor and run it a racing speed while he holds the machine in that position? That's just exactly what happens in this act and maybe you think he doesn't bring the audience to its feet—well, you will have to see it to believe it!

The Casting Campbells have been known for some time as one of the best tumbling troupes in the states. Three seasons, as a troupe with the world's greatest circus recommends them to the Walworth county fair audiences with sufficient arguments that they will be worth while. Some of the stunts that these four comedy tumblers do would make a hard boiled man sick. On their program electricity. The apparatus was installed by the Schumacher garage of Delavan last year and announcements were given into the speaking tube at the judge's stand in a normal voice and the sound was magnified so that all in the stand could hear. There were six horns in use last year and there will be more this year. The vocal soloist with the Holton-Elkhorn band used the apparatus to send his voice to the farthest corners of the stand last year, requiring little effort.

PARKING FACILITIES ARE GOOD AT WALWORTH FAIR

There is plenty of room to park a large number of cars at the Walworth county fair without the usual congestion. There is a large field just inside the south gate where most of the cars may be parked in lines and watched by members of the police department. Across the track in the new addition to the grounds is another excellent parking space and in this space you will escape the greatest crowd. Parking fields will be run by individuals outside the gates and a charge of 50c is made by them.

appears the tripple somersault, the difficult double back twister, the loop-the-loop, loop by the feet, double forward twister, and the double and single somersault. These stunt names don't mean much to the average person and the writer admits ignorance of the magnitude of them but we have seen some of these tricks done by experts and in view of that fact we will state that the artists' earn their money. The Casting Campbells will be seen on the free attraction platform every day of the fair.

THREE BIG SHOWS ON THE MIDWAY

FREAK ANIMAL SHOW WILL BE EDUCATIONAL

Athletic Show and Reptile Exhibition Completes Big Acts This Year

The shows on the midway this year promise to be well worth the money spent on them. There are several but the largest include the Charles Browning freak animal exhibition, the Elmore Day reptile show and the Arthur Connley athletic show. These three attractions will make the midway one of the liveliest spots on the grounds.

The Charles Browning freak animal show plays a great part of the year at the Riverview park in Chicago and this show will present all sorts of freak animals, most of them of the domestic class, dogs, horses, cattle, sheep, cats and some fowls. There are many freaks that are interesting as well as instructive as they have been gleaned from a lifelong study of freaks by Mr. Browning. All the animals shown in this tent will be alive; none of this stuffed animal exhibition which resembles a museum.

The Elmore Day reptile show carries some fifty odd snakes and alligators. They are all very much alive and the show also carries handlers who will show them off to best advantage. One of the acts in this show is amusing as well as entertaining when one of the handlers turns a five foot alligator over on its back and put him to sleep by massaging his neck. There are many other items in this exhibition that are fully as entertaining and unusual.

The Arthur Connley athletic show is a new and up-to-date boxing and wrestling exhibition. Arthur Connley is the brother of Frankie Connley who showed here last year and whose show will be remembered by many. Connley was at one time bantam weight champion in the fistie art of the United States and will show how it is done in the thirty foot tent on midway.

There are several other smaller shows on the grounds for next week and many are worth the time of anyone to attend.

The J. I. Case farm machinery company of Racine has taken over one-third of the entire machinery exhibit space. Their showing of machinery and farm implements this year is the largest they have ever had at any fair. They will show over two hundred different machines and implements.

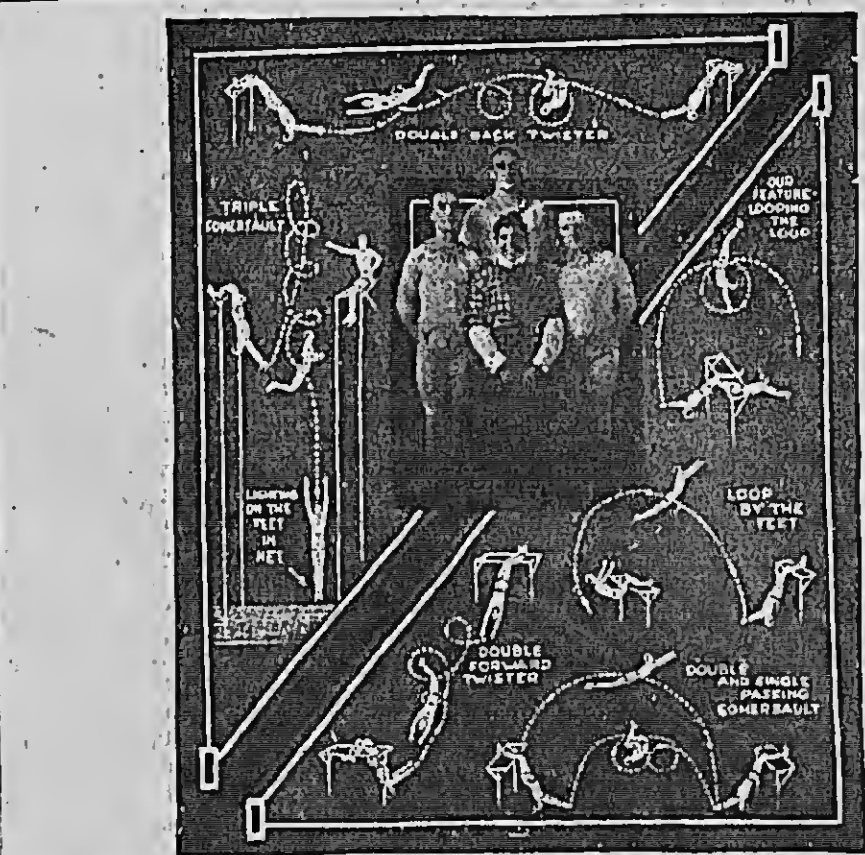

MORGAN" if you appreciate horses. Another feature horse of the troupe, one that has been with the act longer than "Jack Morgan," but has not been as responsive to the training as the leader, is "GOLD FOX." He is a handsome chestnut and shows his Kentucky breeding at every point. He is the kind of horse that everyone wants to own.

One horse in the family, "SIDNEY DICKENSON," boasts of Royal blood in the horse world. The famous Dan Patch, known from coast to coast in years back, is his own sire and this young offspring is just as sensible as his famous parent. He does the difficult camel stretch, the cake walk, the high trot over hurdles, and the backward skua a stunt accomplished perfectly only by one horse in a thousand. Again we are talking in terms unknown to most of us but if these stunts are as pretty and difficult as the names given them, they will be entertaining.

"SNOW BALL," a white horse, was purchased from the Artlip Brothers a few years ago and is known for his athletic tendencies. He kicks a football, jumps the rope, and with Joe Bowers, the performing clown, a white collie dog, and the bull dog "Patsy," he presents a comic half hour that will bring forth laughter from the audience.

A black gelding, "YANKEE DOODLE" and rightfully named, is a Kentucky thoroughbred, which has won many blue ribbons at exhibitions and horse shows, and can do anything that any horse has performed. That statement takes in a lot of territory and we actually believe what we say but we do not anticipate a competition or a "stump the leader" game with any horse that was raised in this wonderful Walworth county.

"PETE," a spotted pony, walks on his hind legs with a monkey hanging on his back. He sits on his hind legs like your pet dog, asking for a bone and sits in an armchair. He is not one of the headliners but does his part of the act in good shape, adding no small amount of mirth to the occasion.

MINNESOTA MAN HAS SCORE CARD CONCESSION

The sale of the score cards are in charge of George O. Weber of Rochester, Minn., this year. Weber is a man with a great deal of experience along this line and he is publishing a score card in the form of a 28 page booklet, containing ads from business men of Walworth county and the race program for each day. The booklet will serve as a souvenir of the fair also. They will be sold at 15c on the grandstand.

STOCK PARADE ON LAST DAY TO BE EXCELLENT

The stock parade on Friday, the last feature of the fair program will be one of the best features of the week and will close the fair with a bang. The winning stock will be paraded in front of the grandstand, led by the Elkhorn Boys' band and the officers of the Agricultural society. More stress has been laid on the stock parade this year than ever before and the result should be wonderful.

THE BIGGEST RACE PROGRAM IN HISTORY

LARGE LIST OF HORSES ENTER IN COMPETITION

FAYETTE NATIONAL TO RACE DURING FAIR

Many Track Records Will Be Smashed at Walworth County Fair This Year

The Walworth county fair has gained a reputation the past number of years for the wonderful races held during the four or five day exhibit. The races last year were excellent, and the year before they were fine, but this year the program of races will surprise all who have been followers of the horses for many years. "The greatest race program ever put on by a county fair in this state and others," is putting it mildly. There are more horses entered in some of the races than in all four days in previous years.

The Monday program will include the 2:11 pace with a purse of $1000. There are 25 horses entered in this race and some mighty high class talent will be seen. The state records, and possibly the world records, should be broken in this race over a half mile track. The talent displayed in this race is astounding to all who know the horses.

The 2:15 trot with 23 extra fine horses entered for a purse of $1000 will not be without more than the usual interest. In the 2:26 trot for a purse of $500 there are 18 entered. On this day the greatest racing ever seen in the state will be witnessed. Monday is a special day of great merit and those who recognize the caliber of the horses entered will not fail to see this Monday program.

On Tuesday the 2:19 pace for a purse of $500 with 19 horses entered is the first race of the program. The three year old pace with a purse of $400 will be the next with 8 entered.

The third and main race of the afternoon will be the district trot for a purse of $200 and eight horses entered. A number of local horses will be seen in this race and in some cases the owners will drive them. The race will include "Hume," an excellent horse from Lake Geneva, owned by Nelse Manley and George MacGhee of that city. "Frona," 2:26 1/2 owned and driven by E. F. Voss of Elkhorn will be in the race with "Peter Johnson" owned by Del Stroup of Lake Geneva. "Don Zillstone" owned by the Mayor driver, Allan Peacock of Lake Geneva will appear, with "Gay Volo" owned by Frank Ayres of Burlington. "Sadie Larsen" owned by W. G. Dabbs of Kenosha and "Jollie Mack" owned by MacWilson of Elkhorn will complete the lineup. All the horses entered in this district competition are in the pink of condition and a real contest will be seen.

Wednesday will be one of the big racing days of the five. There are 78 horses entered in the program for that day with the 2:13 pace for a purse of $600 taking fifteen of that figure. This is the day when the west meets the grand circuit horses and the turf will fly.

The 2:24 trot with a purse of $1000 and 31 entered will not be without interest. A number of local horses are entered in this race and again the Lake Geneva horses appear on the list. "Toddy McKeever" owned by William Rasch of Lake Geneva, "Don Zillstone" owned by Allan Peacock, "Bell Dunham" owned by DeWitt Perry, and Peter Johnson owned by Del Stroup of Lake Geneva will appear in this contest. A number of horses from this section, entered in this race will create a great deal of interest and among them appears "Minnie Harvester" Frank Goodall of Harvard, Illinois, appears in this race as also does T. B. Goodall of Beloit. The 2:25 pace, with 32 entered for a purse of $1000 will complete the program for Wednesday. Among the horses entered in this contest are The Tempter, Oro Zombro, Alluewa Billodean, Jean Aquilian, Robert Dillon, Pale Face, Mary Giltner and General Jack. Now there is a real lineup and one that will give more than one uneasy moment during this afternoon.

Thursday is the day of days at the race track this year. On Thursday records are expected to fall. New headlines will be made and new heroes will be born in the racing game. The 2:12 trot with 20 entries for the $1000 purse will be the first event of the afternoon and from the time the first heat is started to the time the last horse of the last heat is in the barn, all will be excitement. In the 2:12 trot you may expect to see the famous Fayette National who won second in the $10,000 Manufacturers' Stake at Kalamazoo, Michigan, a few weeks ago and a horse which $20,000 could not buy; a horse you all know from the race against time on Friday of last year's fair. Fayette National broke the state track record last year on the one-half mile track at the Walworth county fair. Not alone will the thrill of seeing this famous horse in action be the only event of the race for he will be in fast company. Miss Directed, 2:04 1/4; The Consequence, 2:06 1/4; The Ace, 2:07 1/4; Checkers, 2:06 3/4 and Louis Winter 2:07 1/4 with others will be tramping on his heels in this eventful race. Take them all together, size them up, ask a horseman what he thinks and then decide for yourself whether you want to see this event or not. This should be absolutely the greatest race ever trotted at a county fair in Wisconsin.

The 2:17 pace with a purse of $1000 will fall close on the heels of his big race with 35 excellent horses entered.

NEW RIDES AND AMUSEMENTS TO APPEAR AT FAIR

WHIP, MERRY-GO-ROUND, FERRIS WHEEL, ETC.

"Over the Falls" Will Be the Big Feature—Is Newest of Rides Out

One of the big features of the midway at the Walworth county fair will be the amusements and rides. The program this year is full and a dark horse is in the running. The usual rides will be present with the exception of the sea-plane that was present last year. The Ferris wheel, larger than ever, will be stationed in the center of the midway and new equipment has been installed for this season by the management. There is no better way to see the big fair from the "top" than by taking a whirl on the big wheel. From the top one gets a view of the whole outfit and it is some sight. Next week we will see thousands of people milling on the grounds and the big wheel although highly entertaining gives a much different view of the grounds than can be gained in any other way.

The Merry-go-round will again be here. What a disappointment it would be for the kids if this machine of joy failed to appear on the grounds. It will be here without doubt and you can bank on that statement. The horses are newly painted and the organ has been overhauled, according to early reports reaching this city. There is a few new tunes on their organ also. Let's all hope so!

The whip will again be present under the same management as last year and all who have tried this ride will testify as to the thrill. Cracking the whip on the school grounds does not hold a candle to this form of amusement. All that is necessary, and very important also, is to hang on tight and let the machinery do its develtry.

The dark horse in the amusement end of the fair comes in the form of "Over the Falls." We have no inside information on this latest creation of thrill but we are informed indirectly that it is worth your time and money. "Over the Falls!" It sounds good, now doesn't it?

All the attractions of amusement are under one management and all are clean and run on a clean basis. The management is competent and responsible. The lineup is the best array of rides and amusements ever held on the Walworth county fair grounds.

One of the feature horses of this race is Quina, 2:05 1/4, winner of four grand circuit starts already this year. Walter M. who raced 2:06 at Columbus, Ohio, a few weeks ago and Don Earl, R. B. Goodall's pacer who has shown 2:08 in the past, will add to the interest in no small degree. This race is another ringer!

The 2:30 trot with 25 horses entered will finish the Thursday program.

The last day of the fair, Friday, will be supported with two exceptionally fine races. The first on the docket is the free-for-all pace for a purse of $1000. The track record should be broken in every heat in this race and they ought to do 2:06. There are fifteen entered in this event and something unusual in horse racing may be looked for.

The second and one of the big events of the day will be the 2:18 trot for a purse of $1000. There are 29 entries in this race among which will appear Dick Templeton owned by Harry Aldrich of Elkhorn. Dick Templeton is in top form and trotted an easy mile a short time ago in 2:14 1/4.

The officials of the Walworth county fair have made every effort this year to bring before the people of Walworth county the best racing talent the section has to offer. In fact some of the races are unusual for a county fair and the program in places reads like a state fair score card. The efforts of the officials will be rewarded by the finest races this fair has ever seen. They are worth-

STANDS ON HANDS WHILE PLANE TRAVELS AT 100 MILES AN HOUR

Changes Planes in Air—Todd Wiswell To Be Starter

Will Thrill You Beyond All Your Expectations

Ethel Dare, one of the sensations of the age, will be at the Walworth county fair as one of the free attractions on Tuesday of next week. Miss Dare has gained a world wide reputation for her hair raising stunts on the wings of her airplanes and comes to this fair as a State Fair attraction. Many will remember her

Todd Wiswell To Be Starter

R. T. (Todd) Wiswell, the well known race starter in the state of Wisconsin and northern Illinois, who resides at Spring Prairie will again start the Walworth county fair track contests this year. Todd has been the official starter at the fair for six years and states that he soon will rate a pension. Wiswell, in every day life, when he is out of the judges' stand, work at the State Fair exhibitions and how she left the audience in a weakened condition with "cold perspiration on the brow, after some of her stunts. She seems to have absolutely no responsibility about her life; she doesn't seem to look at danger in the same light that most of us do. She goes right ahead and does stunts, hundreds of feet in the air that a majority of the population wouldn't tackle on mother earth.

One of her stunts which takes the crowd from their seats, only to settle back again with a groan, takes the form of a little stroll on the top wings on her hands. These stunts are done without the aid of wires or ropes, with which to save her from death in the event of a mistake; she takes her life in her hands and laughs about it. You will see her crawl to the tail of the plane, while rushing through the air a 100 miles an hour and set astride the tailpiece waving at the helpless audience below. She will send the cold chills up and down your spine and a feeling of relief will possess you when her plane lands, after she has exchanged places in the air by the use of a rope ladder.

Ethel Dare lives up to her name; her act is more than has ever been said of her; she flirts with death and thrills you through and through. Outside of her act, in every day life she is a quiet little retiring wisp of a girl and you would swear when you met her that she wouldn't have the nerve to jump off the front porch. At any rate, you cannot afford to miss her spectacular act on Tuesday. Her plane will land in the field across from the race track.

while, with worthwhile horses and worthwhile purses. Only one thing is left to providence, with regard to making the races the best in history, and that is the weather. With an even break with the "weather man," you will see the fastest and best races in history, and a record-breaking crowd.

is a farmer and auctioneer. He farms and auctions from morning 'till night and when the fair comes round and Todd has a chance to take a week in the judges' stand he calls it his vacation. Wiswell is also the author, owner manager and promoter of the famous Wiswell barn dances.

A Wiswell is booked as starter for various fairs until the second week in October this year.

FLORAL HALL WILL BE CROWDED DEPARTMENT

According to Mrs. J. W. Leonard, who has charge of the Floral Hall exhibits, the 1923 exhibition will be the biggest and best in years. On this subject the superintendent says, "The prospects in Floral Hall are certainly fine, more entries than in any previous year are coming in. The demand for space is unusually large this year and a separate building will be rented to house the overflow." The articles exhibited in the floral hall should be in that department on Monday or Tuesday, not later, as the judging takes place soon after the Wednesday fair has started.

These reports from the department heads point toward the biggest exhibition the association has ever seen.

The cattle department of the live stock exhibition is one of the biggest in the state this year. Harold Potter, who has charge of this department states that extra sheds and coverings will have to be erected to accommodate the mammoth inflow of pure bred cattle for the showing. The cattle will be judged on Wednesday of the fair in the cool and airy judging pavilion.

The poultry section of the Walworth county fair is in charge of Irving Welkos, of Elkhorn and is one of the spots of interest to all who attend. The exhibit this year will be of the highest class ever shown here and it is one of the largest.

MUSIC WILL BE BIG FEATURE OF ANNUAL EXHIBIT

COUNTY BAND ORGANIZATIONS WILL PLAY

Holton-Elkhorn Band to Be Present in Judge's Stand All Five Days

One of the biggest features of the Walworth County fair will be the music furnished by the various bands of the county. Walworth county has several excellent band organizations and all will be represented at the annual exhibition next week.

The Famous Holton-Elkhorn band composed of the best musical talent of Elkhorn and the Holton band instrument company will be on hand in the lower section of the judges' stand during all five days of the fair. They have a program worked out for the entertainment of the audience in the grandstand that will excel anything ever heard in his part of the country. Under the directorship of H. J. Charlton the band has progressed in band music far better than they were last year. They have soloists, both vocal and instrumental and many other features. Cornet duets, quartets, and sextets will be heard from the platform and in addition the Holton-Elkhorn quartette composed of two cornets, trombone and baritone will render several selections during the intermissions in the race program. Earl Butler, vocal soloist for the band will sing through the megaphone installed by Schumacher of Delavan.

There will be two separate bands on hand each day. The Holton-Elkhorn band and one other which will be located in the band stand on the grounds. The first day is Whitewater day and the Whitewater musical organization will render the music and lead the parade to the grounds in the morning. The Whitewater band is an exceptionally good musical organization and they have rendered some mighty fine numbers at different times during the year. Their music will be appreciated by all and their appearance on the grounds will add a touch of "Whitewaterism" that will be refreshing.

On Tuesday the Burlington band of 25 pieces will render the music in the grounds' stand. This Burlington organization plays mighty fine music and through the support of the entire city of Burlington they have worked up to a point among the first in this section. A number of people from Burlington are expected here next week on Tuesday to support their musical organization of merit.

On Wednesday the Lake Geneva school band will furnish the music with the spirit of the Wisconsin Boys' band association. The Lake Geneva organization under the leadership of L. H. McQuestion has made wonderful progress and their music will be appreciated. During the afternoon concert on the grounds the Lake Geneva organization will be led by Hugh Burdick of that city in the absence of L. H. McQuestion who will be needed with the Holton-Elkhorn band. Burdick is an excellent leader and the organization follows him as one man.

Thursday of the fair will be Delavan day and the Delavan school band will render the music. This Delavan school band needs no introduction to the people of Walworth county but for the benefit of those who have not heard them, we will say that it will pay you to come on Thursday and listen to this organization roll off the music.

On Friday the Elkhorn school band will make their appearance under the leadership of McGill and Johnson. They will play in the grandstand, and also lead the stock parade around the track. This outfit is three years old and has twice taken second place in the Wisconsin State band tournament. They are playing difficult music and a real concert is in store. They march well under leadership of Paul Johnson the school peacock who struts in the lead with the baton.

It has been the aim of the officials of the fair to improve the musical side of the fair and in the judgment of all, they have succeeded. There is no better music offered anywhere in the state and possibly in the United States than will be heard at the Walworth county fair.

EAST ENTRANCE WILL SAVE YOU MUCH TIME

The east entrance to the fair grounds which was initiated into use at last year's fair and which was annexed to the association property last summer is one of the items which will save you time in getting into the grounds, and out after the program is over.

The east entrance leads to the fair grounds from Route 12 on the Lake Geneva-Elkhorn road and a good gravel drive, 30 feet wide will allow for two lines of cars to the gate. Tickets may be purchased at this gate the same as at the main entrances.

This east entrance lightened the traffic at the main gates last year and the ample parking space in connection was brought into good use.

BIG AUTO EXHIBITS PRESENT AT 1923 FAIR

There will be fifteen auto exhibits at the Walworth county fair this year, which makes the largest display of autos ever seen at this exhibition. Practically all dealers in Walworth county are present and in addition there are a number from Milwaukee and other cities outside the county. All the new models will be shown.

BASE BALL GAMES WILL DECIDE CO. CHAMPIONSHIP

COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP IS OBJECT OF CONTEST

Sharon-Delavan Play Monday—E. Troy-Burlington, Tuesday—Geneva-Whitewater Wed.

A new feature was added to the annual exhibition last year which took well with the audience in the grandstand and that was a series of base ball games between county teams. The crowd took a great deal of interest in the games and in view of that fact another series of games will be played this year which will determine the champion of Walworth county.

On the first day the old rivals, Sharon and Bradley Knitweaves of Delavan, will meet. This game will be on Monday and it is predicted to be fully as hot a game as it was last year. The two teams have listed their players with the secretary of the fair and they will meet on the local grounds with the lineup listed. Sharon and Bradley of Delavan played a game at the fair last year which turned out to be a warm one and later another game was played at Delavan which turned out to be even warmer. They are both out to win and the contest will not be without a great deal of interest.

On Tuesday Burlington and East Troy will meet. These two teams represent the best base ball talent from the eastern section of the county and they are evenly matched for the contest. The Burlington team has won many games this year and they have the entire city of Burlington behind them, backing them as the winners. The East Troy delegation receive the undivided support of the entire section and they have their accumulation of scalps strapped to their belt also. They have confidence that they will win their game and it is not possible to predict who will come out on top, but the game will be close and interesting.

On Wednesday the Whitewater aggregation will meet the Lake Geneva nine on natural ground and fight it out. These two teams both have their records, both good and bad and the comparison is close. The secretary has taken a great deal of time and study in matching the teams as closely as possible and it is believed that he did a good job in this instance. The Whitewater team represents a good portion of the base ball talent from the northwestern part of the county while the Lake Geneva nine boasts of the southeastern talent, right to a man. Watch this game on Wednesday.

On Thursday the winner of the Monday game and the winner of the Tuesday game will play off the semifinals. The two winners will be matched in the field and the winner of that game will play the winner of Wednesday game on Friday. This process of elimination will determine the champion team of Walworth county and the Friday contest will be interesting.

An umpire from the Chicago Umpire association will have charge of the games. All teams were compelled to list their players on August 10 and appear in the game with that lineup, according to the rules of the contest.

RACE TRACK IN EXCELLENT CONDITION FOR RACES

The race track at the Walworth county fair grounds is, in excellent shape for the mammoth race program planned. The track has been worked all summer and the result is gratifying. The low white fence which was built last year in front of the judges' stand and the high wire fence just inside of the track, improves the appearance of the track. The track was fast last year and if the weather man doesn't faster this year. The inside border of the track has been tiled and the water will run to the inside and away so that the track will dry out in a very few hours after a rain.

Assessment Roll

Publishers Note: The tax report of the town of Lake Villa will be published in next week's issue of The Antioch News.

The following is a correct list of all the real estate and personal property in the town of Newport, County of Lake and state of Illinois as determined and assessed by the assessors of said township for the year 1923, and the assessed value thereon (which is one-half of the full value) or as the same has been changed by the Supervisor of Assessments of Lake County, and prepared and published by him as required by law, to-wit:

VULCANITE

your summer cottage for weather and fire protection

What about the roof? Nothing will make the cottage more attractive than Vulcanite slate surfaced shingles. They have exclusive advantages of design, too, that give greater thickness, more complete protection, and longer wear, as well as distinctive roof patterns.

Vulcanite Mosaics or Print Roofings, in rolls, are mighty attractive, too, and combine the beauty of shingles with the economy of roll roofing. And there are Vulcanite plain slate surfaced and smooth surfaced rolls as well. Any Vulcanite Roofing will give you the maximum of protection and wear per dollar. Let us send you descriptive literature, samples and prices.

We will give you complete service in preparing a shipment of every material you will need for your summer home and you will find our prices right. Now is the time.

A SUBSTANTIAL EDUCATION FOR YOUR BOY AND GIRL

Government statistics show that of those who enter the four-year high school about one-third leave before the beginning of the second year, about one-half are gone before the beginning of the third year, and fewer than one-third are graduated. These facts can no longer be safely ignored. Of those that graduate only a small percentage go to college. It seems to me then that the greater number return to their parents' home to take up some occupation whereby they may gain a living.

These pupils, that must leave school early, should be given as good a course of study, while in school, as will be of greatest benefit to them in their occupations. What then should be the school's program?

1. Health—A child of high school age cannot neglect his health without serious danger to himself or the race. The school should therefore provide instruction in health, promote physical activities, and inculcate standards of hygiene and sanitation. Anyone needs to know the principles of health all through his life.

2. Worthy home membership—Both the girl and boy should be so trained as to make a worthy member of a family. They should be made to realize the value of a home and appreciate the skill and labor necessary to maintain such a home. Home economics, music, arts, sanitation and food values are some of the subjects to be taught to attain this objective.

3. Command of fundamental processes—Reading, writing, computation, and oral and written expression are some of the fundamental processes necessary.

Only so much theory is necessary as will show results in practice. Particular attention should be paid to the mother tongue (English).

4. Vocation—A student should equip himself to get a living for himself and those dependent on him, to serve society through his vocation, and to find the vocation where he may best develop. A course in vocational guidance is then necessary. Such vocations should be taught as are related to the community. Best results are obtainable if the teacher cooperates with the home, farm, shop or office.

5. Civic education—The school should develop in a student those qualities whereby he will act well his part in a neighborhood, town, city, state and nation. Too many people, at present, have the wrong views toward their public institutions, and social agencies. Most may subject lends itself to the teaching of good citizenship, especially history, civics, economics and farm management.

6. Worthy use of leisure—Proper education will equip an individual with the will power to gain from his leisure moments, wholesome pleasures and a better personality. Good literature, good art and good music will produce the right response in positive enjoyment. A child should be taught to appreciate nature and all things beautiful. Courses in science and agriculture lends themselves to the latter.

7. Ethical character—The social contact of one pupil with another and their teachers afford opportunities toward the attainment of personal responsibility, initiative and the spirit of service. Moral instruction is not necessary as a distinct course. It can be brought about by the proper handling of any subject in the school curriculum.

There is a constant revolution within our schools, but most teachers try to prepare the student for proper citizenship as outlined above. Parents who pay to have their children educated should know what their children are being trained for and then demand that their children be given that training.

Fall Plowing Best

While there is little danger of washing, fall plowing is very advisable because:

1. The moisture content of the soil will be increased.
2. The tilth or workableness is improved, especially of heavy soils.
3. There will be more plant food

- freed from the soil.
4. Late fall plowing kills grubs and other insects.
5. Farmers usually have more time to plow in fall than in spring.
6. A firm seed bed is established during the winter.

Sorry Folks, But Its Going to Be Eva and Not Eve

No, gentle reader, it will not be "Eve" who appears at the Majestic Theater next Saturday night, but Eva. Last week's issue announced the appearance of "Adam and Eve." This was an error. It should have been "Adam and Eva." But nevertheless, Mr. Johnson, manager, assures you a real picture.

The story of a man who turned his family over to a young "go-getter" and came back to find them all changed. This up-to-date comedy ran a year on the New York stage. Its story is universally popular, the laughs are many, its love interest most appealing and it was directed by the man who made "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

Do People Notice the Hat You Wear?

They do! It receives closer scrutiny than any other apparel item. A new Fall hat of the style and shade that looks best on you will help you win favorable impressions. Incidentally, from our complete stock you're sure to find the hat that DOES look best on you. By all means, come in while we still have all the wanted shapes, colors and sizes.

NEW FALL HATS $3 to $6
NEW FALL SUITS $22.50 and up
